Course Description
The broad aim of the course is to familiarize students with the fascinating world of animal behaviour. The course will examine the tools necessary to survive (and thrive) in a large, and sometimes cruel world. Potential topics may include predator/prey relationships, mating and play behaviour, and human-animal interactions. Students will gain experience in communicating and discussing the current understanding of why animals behave the way they do.

Course Learning Outcomes
The Department of Psychology is committed to student knowledge and skill development. The table below lists the key learning outcomes for this course, the program-learning outcomes they facilitate (see https://live-arts.ucalgary.ca/psychology/about#program-learning-outcomes), and the expected level of achievement.

Notes. PLOs = Program-Learning Outcomes: 1 = demonstrate knowledge of psychological sciences, 2 = think critically and solve problems, 3 = conduct research and analyze data, 4 = communicate effectively, 5 = demonstrate information literacy, 6 = understand and implement ethical principles in a diverse world, 7 = apply psychological knowledge and skills, 8 = Demonstrate multicultural competence and awareness of issues related to equity, diversity,* and inclusion. Level of PLO achievement facilitated by this course: I = introductory, C = competency, A = advanced.
Acknowledgments and Respect for Diversity
Our classrooms view diversity of identity as a strength and resource. Your experiences and different perspectives are encouraged and add to a rich learning environment that fosters critical thought through respectful discussion and inclusion. The Department of Psychology would also like to acknowledge the traditional territories of the people of the Treaty 7 region in southern Alberta. The City of Calgary is also home to Métis Nation of Alberta, Region III.

Course Format
This course will use a hybrid format. Some lectures will be taught live via Zoom during each scheduled class as marked by asterisks in the course schedule below and will be recorded and posted to D2L after class. Other class materials will be posted to the course D2L page by the day/time of each scheduled class as per the course schedule.

Prerequisites
PSYC 300/301 and consent of the Department (normally restricted to Honours students)

Required Text
There is no required textbook for the course. References to potential readings from the primary literature will be provided in class.

Assessment Methods
Group presentation 30%
Podcast Pitch 15%
Podcast 30%
Thought Journal 15%
Participation 10%

Group presentation – Groups of 2 students will be responsible for delivering a zoom presentation to the class. The requirements for the group presentation are two-fold:

1. Present on a topic (e.g. foraging, mating, communication, etc.) relating to our ongoing investigation of animal behaviour. Include in your presentation the pertinent background information and some cool examples of the behaviour you have chosen.
2. Facilitate discussion related to your chosen topic. This should include a synchronous and an asynchronous component. You might consider group activities, pair-share approaches, and discussion posts via D2L. The goal is to create an engaging community in which learners can interact with the material.

Grades for this assignment will be based on the quality of your presentation, in addition to how effectively you facilitate discussion. A portion of your grade will be based on feedback from your peers. More detail regarding the assignment will be discussed in class and made available on D2L.

Podcast Pitch – The purpose of this assignment is for you to receive formative feedback from the class regarding your podcast idea (see below). You will upload a description of your podcast to the D2L discussion forums. Include in your post a description of the topic you have chosen (what and why), and the general approach you plan to take. Uploads can consist of Powerpoint files, video or audio recordings, etc. Podcast pitches should be uploaded by 11:59pm on Oct 8th. More details regarding the assignment will be discussed in class and posted on D2L.

Podcast – The goal of this assignment is to put together a podcast (approx. 10 minutes) on a topic of interest that relates to animal behaviour. Working in the same teams as your group presentation, your job is to present on a different topic than your previous assignment. The podcast should be aimed at informing the general public of your topic. Grades for the podcast will be based on a number of criteria including the clarity of your presentation and your engagement with the material. Due by 11:59pm on Dec 12th via D2L this assignment accounts for 30% of your final grade (see D2L for more details).

Thought Journal – Insight into a topic of study often arises in an offline state (i.e. outside the classroom). This assignment (to be done individually) provides you with an opportunity to transcribe your musings on the information we will discuss throughout the semester, and is designed to encourage curiosity as it relates to animal behaviour. Grades for the thought journal will be based on your reflection of, and insight into, the course material. Worth 15% of your final grade a Word or PDF copy of your thought journal is due on Dec 8th by 11:59pm via D2L. A rubric relating to the thought journal is available on D2L.

Participation – Active participation can often make the difference between a mediocre and a great course experience. My goal is to make the classroom and online environment a safe place to formulate, express, and discuss a wide variety of ideas. Your thoughts and questions can often provide a great starting point for a fruitful discussion. With this in mind, students are expected to contribute to our in-class discussion and online community in a respectful and thoughtful manner. Your participation grade will reflect your engagement with the course material. Importantly, this includes contributing to discussions, actively posting material, and participating in discourse throughout the semester. Your grade will be a product of your engagement across the entire semester. More details regarding the grade breakdown will be discussed in class and provided on D2L.

Late assignments will not be accepted without instructor approval.

University of Calgary Academic Integrity Policy
Academic integrity is the foundation of the development and acquisition of knowledge and is based on values of honesty, trust, responsibility, and respect. We expect members of our community to act with integrity.
Research integrity, ethics, and principles of conduct are key to academic integrity. Members of our campus community are required to abide by our institutional code of conduct and promote academic integrity in upholding the University of Calgary’s reputation of excellence. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have read and are familiar with the student academic misconduct policy: https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-academic-misconduct-policy.pdf.

Department of Psychology Criteria for Letter Grades
Psychology course instructors use the following criteria when assigning letter grades:
A+ grade: Exceptional Performance. An A+ grade indicates near perfect performance on multiple choice and short answer exams. For research papers/essays/course projects/presentations, an A+ grade is awarded for exceptional work deserving of special recognition and is therefore not a common grade.

A, A- Range: Excellent Performance. Superior understanding of course material. Written work is very strong in terms of critical and original thinking, content, organization, and the expression of ideas, and demonstrates student’s thorough knowledge of subject matter.

B Range: Good Performance. Above average understanding of course material. Written work shows evidence of critical thinking and attention to organization and editing but could be improved in form and/or content.

C Range: Satisfactory Performance. Adequate understanding of course material. Knowledge of basic concepts and terminology is demonstrated. Written work is satisfactory and meets essential requirements but could be improved significantly in form and content. Note: All prerequisites for courses offered by the Faculty of Arts must be met with a minimum grade of C-.

D range: Marginally meets standards. Minimal understanding of subject matter. Written work is marginally acceptable and meets basic requirements but requires substantial improvements in form and content. Student has not mastered course material at a level sufficient for advancement into more senior courses in the same or related subjects.

F grade: Course standards not met. Inadequate understanding of subject matter. Written work does not meet basic requirements. Student has not demonstrated knowledge of course material at a level sufficient for course credit.

As stated in the University Calendar, it is at the instructor’s discretion to round off either upward or downward to determine a final grade when the average of term work and final examinations is between two letter grades. To determine final letter grades, final percentage grades will be rounded up or down to the nearest whole percentage (e.g., 89.5% will be rounded up to 90% = A but 89.4% will be rounded down to 89% = A-).

Absence From A Test/Exam

Makeup tests/exams are NOT an option without the approval of the instructor. Students who miss a test/exam have up to 48 hours to contact the instructor to ask for a makeup test/exam. It’s the instructor’s discretion if they will allow a make-up exam. Students who do not schedule a makeup test/exam with the instructor within this 48-hour period forfeit the right to a makeup test/exam. At the instructor’s discretion, a makeup test/exam may differ significantly (in form and/or content) from a Regularly scheduled test/exam. Once approved by the instructor a makeup test/exam must be written within 2 weeks of the missed test/exam on a day/time scheduled by the instructor. If a student cannot write their final exam on the date assigned by the Registrar’s Office, they need to apply for a deferred exam https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams.

Travel During Exams
Consistent with University regulations, students are expected to be available to write scheduled exams at any time during the official December and April examination periods. Requests to write a make-up exam because of conflicting travel plans (e.g., flight bookings) will NOT be considered by the department. Students are advised to wait until the final examination schedule is posted before making any travel arrangements. If a student cannot write their final exam on the date assigned by the Registrar’s Office, they need to apply for a deferred exam https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams. Students with an exceptional extenuating circumstance (e.g., a family emergency) should contact the Department of Psychology (psyugrd@ucalgary.ca).

Academic Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Academic Misconduct
For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Instructor Intellectual Property
Course materials created by professor(s) (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Copyright Legislation
All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Freedom OF Information and Protection of Privacy

Student information will be collected in accordance with typical (or usual) classroom practice. Students’ assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.
