

FACULTY OF ARTS, Department of Psychology

POLICY ON GRADUATE STUDENT FEE DIFFERENTIAL REVENUE

Created: June 4, 2004

Last Edited: February 10, 2016

Policy:

The Department of Psychology will use the revenue returned to the Department from Fee Differentials from foreign graduate students for graduate student support, to improve its recruitment and retention of graduate students.

Procedures:

The mechanism by which the funds will be disbursed depends upon the source of the funds that were initially used to pay the fees:

1. For a student who pays his/her own fees, the differential fees received by the Department for a student will be returned to that student,
2. For a student whose differential fees have been paid by a foreign government, employer, corporation, or research supervisor, the differential fees will be retained by the respective graduate program for graduate student support, as determined by the respective Graduate Program Director.